2. Description of Programme of Study

The Master of Arts programme in Language and Linguistics is intended for students with either a Swedish or international bachelor's degree who are interested in language and linguistics. The objectives of the programme are to increase the student's knowledge and understanding of language in its broad sense and theoretical understanding of linguistic issues. It also aims to develop the student's language proficiency in and knowledge of the specific language in which he/she has chosen to specialise. The student can choose from 16 specialisations: Arabic/Semitic Languages, Chinese, English, French, General Linguistics, German, Greek/Modern Greek, Italian, Japanese, Latin, Phonetics, Rhetoric, Romanian, Russian, Spanish and Swedish/Scandinavian Languages. The programme consists of compulsory courses common to all specialisations, compulsory courses for each specialisation and elective courses. Elective courses are chosen in consultation with the programme coordinator. The languages of instruction are English and other languages according to the area of specialisation. The final degree project consists of a thesis on language or linguistics with an in-depth study in one of the areas of specialisation. The programme can constitute a preparatory course for further academic studies or for a future career in an area related to languages.

Students are also offered the opportunity to complete a one-year Master's degree within the programme.

For a Master of Arts (120 credits)

3. Outcomes

For a Master of Arts (120 credits) in Language and Linguistics the student shall
