Research interests

In my research I use my analytical expertise and background to study the figurative and narrative potential of street art as a visually perceived (un)sanctioned and typically polysemiotic medium addressing socio-political issues. I am familiar with, and experienced in the challenges of conducting research, from funding bids preparation and designing research to data collection and analysis, and disseminating research, social (media) networking and facilitating knowledge exchange. I use both qualitative and quantitative research methods including interviews, participatory workshops, participant observation and other ethnographic methods, corpora, experimental design and online survey design.
