

LIVR23 Reading List HT2023

Fastställd (senast reviderad) av styrelsen för Sektion 4, 2023-05-04

Primary (required) reading

Anon., Beowulf (Seamus Heaney's translation; available via Norton Anthology; 67pp)

Jane Austen, Northanger Abbey (any edition, but recommended Norton New Critical; 384pp)

Geoffrey Chaucer, 'General Prologue' and 'The Miller's Tale', from The Canterbury Tales (any edition, but recommended Oxford World's Classics, 2011; 36pp)

T.S. Eliot, The Waste Land (any edition; 14pp)

Olaudah Equiano, The Interesting Narrative of Olaudah Equiano, or Gustavus Vassa, The African (any edition, but recommended Penguin Classics, 2003; 250pp)

Alexander Pope, Essay on Criticism (any edition; 15pp)

Mary Prince, The History of Mary Prince (any edition, but recommended Penguin Classics; 160pp)

Ann Radcliffe, The Romance of the Forest (any edition; but recommended Oxford World's Classics; 423pp)

William Shakespeare, Richard II (Arden edition; 305pp)

Jonathan Swift, Part IV of Gulliver's Travels (any edition; 35pp)

Oscar Wilde, The Importance of Being Earnest (any edition but ensure it is the three-act version; 220pp)

Virginia Woolf, To the Lighthouse (any edition; 195pp)

a selection of Victorian poetry (not exceeding 50pp)

a selection of Romantic-period poetry (not exceeding 50pp)

excerpts from Oscar Wilde's 1895 trial (to be provided; 20pp)

a selection of secondary material (not exceeding 200pp)

Secondary material

A selection of critical material

Språk- och litteraturcentrum, Lunds universitet 2023-06-05/Lene Nordrum