To students admitted for the course: The Old Icelandic Heritage

Welcome to the course The Old Icelandic Heritage, 7,5 credits (SASH48), at the Centre for Languages and Literature, Lund University, autumn 2020.

On this course home page, you will find date and time for the introduction meeting (in August at the latest), schedule, literature list and syllabus for the course. Most of the classes will take place on campus this semester but some take place online.

Please consider the possibility of late schedule changes. It is a good idea to check the course home page and the schedule once more during the week before course start.

The introduction meeting is mandatory. In case you cannot participate, you need to give us notice in advance. Send an email to Gunilla Ek Werner, our course administrator: gunilla.ek_werner@sol.lu.se, to keep your place in the course.

Registration: You must register for the course between August 24 and 31, in the Student portal www.student.lu.se, using your student account.

Course platform: Please note that we use the course platform Canvas and that you need to activate your Student account to be able to log in.

More useful information to be found in the column to the right.

We are looking forward to having you as our student.

Welcome!

Lena Larsson, Director of studies
Åsa Wikström, Study advisor
Gunilla Ek Werner, Course administrator

Did you activate your Student Account already?

Go to <https://passport.lu.se> and click on the 'University Admissions' button. Log in with the credentials from universityadmissions.se. The Student Account gives you access to a number of electronic services and resources that the University offers you as a student. If you already have an account, you continue to use it for all new courses. Log in to the Student Portal at student.lu.se.
