| 4. | Course Content | |
| 1. | Brief description of the course and its content including details of any sub-divisions | The course deals with various aspects of the Swedish language. The structure of language at different levels is studied through analysis of phonemes, words, phrases, sentences and texts. Variation and change over time is studied, and both spoken and written texts from various periods and genres are analysed. Language learning is also studied in a more general manner, as is the relationship between language and society, and the relationship between language variation and language change. Linguistic theory and method are introduced and put into practise when the student carries out a linguistic study. In addition, the student further develops his/her proficiency in using Swedish in speech and writing in various situations. The course consists of nine sub-courses: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1.
